

INACAN'S KING'S CUP

Alcohol is alcohol, but for a memorable experience play with InACan cocktails

PROPS REQUIRED

A deck of playing cards

SET UP

- Place your large container or cup in the middle of a table and evenly scatter the cards around it.
- Once everyone has their own beverage to sip from, you are ready to go.

INSTRUCTIONS

- Each player takes a turn selecting a card from the scattered cards in the centre of the table.
- Each card has an action that follows it.
- People must do whatever the card says.
- The actions corresponding to each card are mentioned below.

RULES

The person who picks

Exchange your drink with someone, and both of you chug!

Pick 2 people who you think would make a good pair and drink with them.

Single people drink from the glasses of those with a partner.

Drink if you're the last to name 5 Punjabi songs.

Drink if you know a dark secret about someone present, and don't talk about it.

Come up with a rule (e.g. don't use first names, drink with only left hand, etc). Whoever breaks it, drinks.

Pick a player to be your mate. When one drinks, the other follows.

Start rhyming till one of you can't anymore. Eg salt-malt-fault-vault....

You have to choose a person that will get access to your phone and send a message to the 10th contact on any of your messaging apps.

Take 5 sips from everyone's glass and finish your own drink.

Everyone has to open Instagram and like an old photo of their crush. Anyone who refuses to do so, drinks.

When the first three kings are drawn, every player pours some of their drink into the King's Cup. The person who draws the fourth and final king drinks the contents of the cup.

Text your parents saying "Call me right now". Anyone who refuses to do so, drinks.

Prank call 5 people. If you do, the rest of the group finishes their drinks. If not, you finish yours.
